

Meet LP

Formed in 1999, Levenfeld Pearlstein (LP) was born of the desire to create a different kind of law firm.

Many law firms promote their “value proposition,” which they define as: high quality work, responsiveness, efficiency and reasonable fees. To us, those are just the basics of doing good work for clients.

From the beginning, our focus has been building business relationships with clients as trusted strategic advisors, not just as lawyers. Our attorneys understand their clients’ business and industry inside and out, seeking legal solutions that support the client’s long-term business strategy as well as short-term needs.

LP’s top talent and entrepreneurial setting translate into the sophisticated skills and resources of a big law firm in a more manageable environment. We expertly navigate complex real estate deals, huge national business transactions, and critical litigation matters, and we do it with small-firm personal service, fewer layers of lawyers, greater top-level partner involvement, and more efficiency. We offer the same level of skill and expertise without the bitter big firm aftertaste.

Together and individually, we care about and value people - our employees, our clients, our business partners and our communities. We care about the planet and the kind of home it will provide for future generations, and we act on those beliefs daily through our Corporate Social Responsibility initiatives.

The

Way

THE SERVICE PARTNER: Hired for manpower in established practice areas.
Key characteristic: hard-working.

THE PRACTICE STARTER:
Hired to help firm break into new area.
Key characteristic: entrepreneurial.

THE DRAFT PICK: Hired for future promise, not current book of business.
Key characteristic: talented.

Thinking About Switching Firms?

Doing good legal work isn't what we aspire to - it's where we begin.

A Look at LP's History